

ArthroStim

Many patients do not like to hear cracking sound during their chiropractic treatment. This is why chiropractors at Centre Chiropratique Dagenais also work with the arthrostim. This instrument has been used for twenty years by chiropractors. Not only does it moves the bones but it also maximizes the neurological response of the treatment. By its principle of repeated pulses (12 to 14 pulses a second), the arthrostim reduces the force required for the adjustment, which makes it more comfortable, while maintaining its full effectiveness.
